THREE KILLED WHEN TRAINS COLLIDE

TWO WHITE MEN IN "EMPTY" MASHED TO PULP IN RAILROAD DISASTER.

Coal Car Thrown in Air Falls on Top of Them; Negro Walking Along Track Is Dead.

Shreveport, La., June 3.—Elma Jorgenson of Norwalk, Iowa, and Ed Kirk, 1318 East 12th street, Kansas City, both white, and John Henry Moore of this city, a negro, were killed when a local freight train was wrecked at Blanchard, 11 miles north of Shreveport on the Kansas City Southern this morning at 7 o'clock. Mashed to pulp.

The bodies of the two white men were mangled to a pulp. They were in an empty box car which was demolished when an empty coal car was thrown into the air and fell on the car in which they were riding. The negro was walking along the track when the wreck occurred and did not get out of the way quick enough.

Second Collision Occurs. Four hours later a head-on collision between a southbound passenger train from Texarkana and a train composed of a portion of the wrecked freight took place at the same place. No one was killed or injured in this last accident.

Misunderstanding of orders or failure on the part of the operator at Blanchard to deliver them to the engineer of the freight is supposed to have been the cause of the second wreck.

ENGINE ON FIRST RUN GETS THREE VICTIMS

THREE MEN, CAUGHT ON TRACK, KILLED BY FRISCO LOCOMOTIVE IN INITIAL 100 MILES.

Tulsa, Okla., June 3.—A brand new railroad engine making its first run on the Frisco, killed two men and injured fatally a third in the first hundred miles of its initial run. The train left Oklahoma City at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon and when it arrived at Tulsa at 9 o'clock it had run over and killed Clyde Ross at Stroud, Sam Davis at Kellyville and fatally injured Tom Nelson at Sapulpa.

Engineer Killed as Train Collides With Runaway Locomotive

Raleigh, N. C., June 3.—A runaway locomotive, which stole out of the station here during the night, ran eight miles northward and crashed into a southbound Seaboard Air line passenger train, instantly killing Engineer W. R. Kirkwood. The passenger train was running slowly up grade when the wild engine, making fast time, dashed into it.

Both locomotives were demolished and the baggage car was telescoped. The fireman moved his life by jumping. The baggage master is reported to have been injured. Engineer Kirkwood, whose home was near Roanoke, Virginia, leaves a widow and two children.

MOB SEIZES LIFE OF BLACK WHO ATTACKED GIRL

Negro in Hands of Officers at Salisbury, Md., But Belief Is He Is Innocent.

Salisbury, Md., June 3.—Enraged residents of Princess Anne and also nearby places surrounded the jail here late tonight, demanding the delivery to them of Wesley Miles, a negro who had been brought here this evening from Princess Anne, where he was arrested at the place of former Sheriff W. J. Phillips on the charge of having twice attempted to assault Mr. Phillips' 14-year-old daughter.

The negro was spirited away, but citizens threw a cordon about Salisbury and men in automobiles hurried to Delmar, Laurel, Pocomoke City and Cambridge in the hope of heading off the sheriff and his prisoner. It is believed the sheriff will attempt to get his prisoner aboard a train for Baltimore at some station along the road, but men have been located at every station, and a train will be searched. No concealment is made of the intention to lynch the negro if he is captured.

HOUSE DEADLOCK ON PACT

Washington, June 3.—The house ways and means committee today returned to the senate the metal tariff revision bill with an ultimatum that the house will refuse to agree to the amendment repealing the Canadian reciprocity act, even though it agreed to every other change. Members of the committee declared a deadlock was imminent if the senate refuses to agree.

No Ball Game Here is Ultimatum for Bloomer Girl Team

"I noticed a placard in a local drug store announcing the coming of an aggregation of 'bloomer girl' baseball players, who are scheduled to play a game of the national pastime at Katy Park next Sunday. I was surprised and shocked to see such an announcement, and I wish to serve notice upon the manager of the team that should persist in filling the engagement, if the city officials do not interfere with their exhibition, I am going to prosecute them myself."

The foregoing statement was authorized by Attorney Tom M. Hamilton, Monday night. Continuing Mr. Hamilton said: "There is a state and city law against such an exhibition being pulled off, and I think it is a disgrace to a civilized country for such a thing to be even attempted in a decent community. Well, if they persist in pulling off the show, they will find that the self-respecting citizenship of Waco will rise up and stamp them out of business. I am going to keep my word and will prosecute them to the fullest extent of the law just as surely as they attempt to fill their engagement."

TAFT WINS FIRST ROUND IN OHIO CONVENTION

SECURES CONTROL OF STATE COMMITTEE; FINAL STRUGGLE TO COME TODAY.

Columbus, Ohio, June 3.—President Taft won the first skirmishes of the republican state convention, which began here late today. The final struggle for the control of Ohio's six delegates at large is expected to be reached soon after the convention meets tomorrow morning.

President Taft's show of strength came in the district meetings. He is believed to have gained control of the new state central committee by winning at least eleven of the 21 districts. Roosevelt supporters declare, however, that Walter Brown, campaign manager for the colonel, will retain his place as chairman of the central committee.

SEE TAFT AHEAD.

Columbus, Ohio, June 3.—President Taft showed such strength in the preliminary skirmishes today that politicians tonight declared he was assured of Ohio's six delegates at large when the convention resumes tomorrow. The resolutions committee's majority report tonight by a vote of 12 to 9 decided to recommend to the convention "that we do heartily endorse the administration of Wm. H. Taft."

In spite of the Taft strength in the central committee, Chairman Walter F. Brown, manager of Col. Roosevelt's campaign in Ohio, was elected by a vote of 13 to 8. This was after the delegates in a test vote had refused to elect him temporary chairman by a vote of 11 to 10.

HARMON AND WILSON MEN FIGHT FOR OHIO

Delegates Pledged For Jersey Governor Object to Being Bound For Ohio.

Toledo, Ohio, June 3.—Plans of party leaders to have the Ohio democratic state convention which will be called here tomorrow adopt resolutions to cast the state's 48 votes solidly for Hudson Harmon for president at the Baltimore convention under the unit rule, appears certain to precipitate a bitter fight.

Wilson Men Object

Although Gov. Harmon carried the state at the recent presidential preference primaries by nearly 11,000, nineteen district delegates pledged to Woodrow Wilson were chosen and they object to being bound by the state convention with instructions to vote for Harmon at Baltimore. They declare the Harmon plan violates the state primary law and threaten to take the matter before the democratic national convention, if necessary.

RAISING WOULDN'T HAVE HELPED ANY, SAYS DARROW

Will Seek to Show McNamara Confession Pact Framed Before Alleged Negotiations.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 3.—That Clarence S. Darrow, the former McNamara lawyer, now on trial accused of will base his defense on the assertion that the agreement for the McNamara brothers to plead guilty had been made before the conclusion of the alleged negotiations for the bribery of the juror, George N. Lockwood, was indicated today. A special session of the county grand jury further to investigate alleged bribing of jurors in that case, will base his defense on the assertion that the agreement for the McNamara brothers to plead guilty had been made before the conclusion of the alleged negotiations for the bribery of the juror, George N. Lockwood, was indicated today.

HOUSES DEADLOCK ON PACT

Washington, June 3.—The house ways and means committee today returned to the senate the metal tariff revision bill with an ultimatum that the house will refuse to agree to the amendment repealing the Canadian reciprocity act, even though it agreed to every other change. Members of the committee declared a deadlock was imminent if the senate refuses to agree.

TEDDY DECLARES AGAINST ROOT AS CHAIRMAN

ISSUES CALL TO SUPPORTERS TO OPPOSE NEW YORKER, BRANDING HIM A REACTIONARY.

Barnes Head Head of Taft Canvass, Roosevelt Assents; Confers With Advisers.

Oyster Bay, June 3.—Upon the selection of a temporary chairman of the republican national convention may hang the political fortunes of ex-President Roosevelt. He decided tonight to oppose with all his strength the seating of Senator Root and issued a call to all his supporters to stand by him. Colonel Roosevelt declares that Mr. Root "has ranged himself against the men who stand for progressive principles within the republican party," and says it is William Barnes Jr. of New York who is to be the real head of the Taft canvass at Chicago.

The colonel's decision to make a square issue of the seating of Mr. Root was reached after a long consultation with his advisers. At Sagamore Hill today were Senator Dixon, Gifford Pinchot, William L. Ward, New York; George W. Perkins, New York; Frank B. Kellogg and Andrew Rahn, both of whom are from Minnesota, and Truxton Reel, a delegate from California. After Colonel Roosevelt had completed his statement he brought up the question of whether he is to go to the Chicago convention.

"After parting with the men I have seen today," he said, "my impression is that I will not go. I may change my decision if any strong-arm tactics are attempted."

TAFT ASKS HEARINGS OF CONTESTS BE PUBLIC

FRIENDS THINK THIS SHOWS PRESIDENT BELIEVES HE HAS STRONG CASE.

Chicago, June 3.—A letter from President Taft to Chairman Harry S. New, of the sub-committee on arrangements for the republican national convention, suggesting that the meetings of the national committee, at which contests are heard, be public, was received at the national committee headquarters here today.

The president suggests that Mr. New take up with the committee the matter of open hearings and that if the committee finds it possible, the deliberations over the contests, 236 of which have already been prepared for submission, be carried on in open session.

DOORS OPEN, PROBABLE.

This, in connection with the previous request of Col. Roosevelt for publicity of the contest arguments, indicates that the doors probably will be thrown open, at least to newspaper men, when the committee takes up contested delegates cases Friday morning.

The president's declaration for publicity of hearings is declared by his supporters here to indicate the Taft managers believe their contest cases are strongly prepared.

Taft Delegates Flop. Edwin W. Sims, acting head of the Chicago Roosevelt headquarters, made public a telegram received from Oscar R. Hundley, a Roosevelt leader in Alabama. Mr. Hundley said the two delegates from the third Alabama district, instructed for Taft, had given out a written statement that they would support Roosevelt because they believe ninety per cent of their constituency favored his nomination.

PROGRESSIVES WIN IN OHIO ELECTION

Red Standpats Flattened by Steam Boiler Bacon Hind's Insurgent Revue Conduct.

Pawhuska, Okla., June 3.—The progressive element of the Omaha Indian nation won a decided victory in the election of a principal chief, assistant chief and eight members of the council today. The count has not been completed, but it is conceded by all parties that Bacon Hind has been elected chief and Henry Red Olge assistant chief and that they carried their entire ticket with them. Determined opposition to them for the administration of the Omaha affairs by the government will result, it is said, from the seating of representatives of this party.

The Indians charge laxity on the part of the federal agents in protecting their interests in the lease of 60,000 acres of mineral land in the Omaha nation.

DALLAS ESTABLISHES A HOLD-UP RECORD

By The Associated Press.

Dallas, Tex., June 3.—The fact that there were five hold-ups in Dallas Saturday night developed today in the local police courts. No one was seriously injured; the holdups are said to be a new record for numbers in one night.

Boys Arise Early for Fishing Trip, Police are Called

When the police responded in the auto patrol to a riot call phoned in from the vicinity of the Y. M. C. A. building early Monday morning, Station Officers Joe Carlisle, who accompanied the patrol, was dumbfounded to find more than a hundred small boys making merry in the darkness of early morn. Residents of the neighborhood said they could not sleep on account of the noise made by the boys, none of whom appeared to be more than 10 years old and who stated they were scheduled to leave the Y. M. C. A. building at 6 o'clock a. m. for a few days' camping out on the Bosque. They said they were merely getting things in shape for the "outing" and were sorry if they had disturbed the neighborhood. The auto patrol returned empty but not before an impressive and to-the-point lecture to be good had been given by the officer.

Senator Kenyon's victory was sweeping, covering not alone the progressive congressional districts but a number of counties in former standpat strongholds. In addition Senator Kenyon carried Atlantic, Mr. Young's old home town and the Des Moines precinct in which Mr. Young resides.

WESTERN TEXAS PROTEST AGAINST RATE INCREASE

COMMISSION SUSPENDS RAISE UNTIL INVESTIGATION OF MATTER CAN BE MADE.

Washington, June 3.—A vigorous protest has been received by the interstate commerce commission from points in western Texas against an increase in their freight rates from all parts of the country by the refusal of the railroads to consider destinations in western Texas as "Texas common points."

The carriers have filed with the commission tariffs to points in western Texas increasing the rates on substantially all commodities from two cents to eleven cents a hundred pounds. Because of the protests received, the commission today suspended the proposed rates from June 7, until it has had opportunity to consider them. The suspension affects all southwestern lines.

CUBA TO GET ARMS AND AMMUNITION FROM HERE

FIVE THOUSAND RIFLES AND A MILLION ROUNDS TO BE USED TO ARM VOLUNTEERS.

Washington, June 3.—The state department today authorized the war department to honor the application of the Cuban government for five thousand rifles and one million rounds of ammunition, which are to be used to arm the volunteers and the guards organized by plantation owners to protect their property against the insurgents.

President Gomez wanted the latest type of Springfield rifles similar to the ten thousand already supplied to the Cuban army. When it was found that such arms could not be sold without express authority from congress and as that would take some time, the Cuban government decided to adopt Krag Jorgensen rifles instead. These are practically new weapons, having been supplied with new barrels and put in thorough order when they were withdrawn from the regular army and set apart to form a reserve supply of about 200,000, sufficient to equip a volunteer army in case of need. The weapons will be sold to the Cuban government at about $5 apiece, plus shipping charges.

HELD FOR VAGRANCY LEARNS LEGACY AWAITS HER

Milwaukee, June 3.—A legacy of $10,000 and an interest in three plantations in Louisiana is said to be awaiting Mrs. Courtney Weatherly, aged 28, formerly of New Orleans, who was in police court today charged with vagrancy.

Mrs. Weatherly is said to have married against her parents' wishes. Her marital life was of short duration, it being alleged her husband deserted her. She was employed as a nurse at the Soldiers' home, but lost her position and being in desperate straits, it is alleged, stole several small articles from the counter of a west. Ails being stone, which resulted in her arrest. When the court was informed by her attorney that a legacy awaited her and that money was being sent her to return to New Orleans, sentence was suspended.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Washington, June 3.—Government prediction:
East Texas—Fair in inter-lor; probably showers near coast Tuesday; Wednesday fair.
West Texas—Fair Tuesday and Wednesday.
Oklahoma—Generally fair Tuesday and Wednesday.

MCCARTY TO MEET KAUFFMAN.

Springfield, Mo., June 3.—Luther McCarty, who recently defeated Carl Morris here, has practically closed a deal to meet Al Kauffman in San Francisco June 16. McCarty's manager is holding out for an additional five per cent of the receipts.

WOULD SUSPEND GUARANTEES IN CUBA

GOMEZ ASKS CONGRESS FOR RIGHT TO USE EXTREME METHODS ON REBELS.

Advised by General Necessary to Strike Terror into Hearts of Negroes.

Havana, June 3.—President Gomez sent a message to congress this afternoon requesting the passage of a law empowering him to suspend the constitutional guarantees in the republic, or in such portions as he may consider necessary. No action was taken in consequence of the lack of a quorum, but the message was referred to a committee and a special session called for tomorrow to discuss the momentous measure, which it is believed, marks the crucial moment in dealing with the insurrection.

The president's action is taken in accordance with the urgent recommendations of Gen. Monteagudo, commander in chief, now at Santiago, following a long conference by telegraph, in which Gen. Monteagudo declared it is absolutely necessary to suspend guarantees to prevent cooperation of negro conspirators with those actually in arms. The general said the severest measures, to strike terror into the negroes, are essential. He intends to pursue the rebels mercilessly and deal summarily with all suspected of aiding the insurgents should the suspension of the guarantees be authorized, which appears practically certain.

CLARK GETS IDAHO.

Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, June 3.—The democratic state convention today adopted a resolution instructing Idaho's eight delegates to the national convention for Champ Clark.

GOVERNMENT TO PROBE ACTION OF HANFORD

BERGER PROTESTS TO WICKERSHAM AS TO DEPRIVING SOCIALIST OF CITIZENSHIP.

Washington, June 3.—Acting by order of the socialist party, Representative Berger of Wisconsin, the only socialist in congress today, entered a violent protest with Attorney General Wickersham against the action of Judge Hanford of Seattle in depriving George Olsen of citizenship rights because the latter wanted to change the constitution. Berger declared he would take the matter up to President Taft if the attorney general declined to act.

Later in the house Mr. Berger let it be known that he had filed affidavits with Attorney General Wickersham which he would make the basis of an attempt at impeachment proceedings against Judge Hanford unless the department of justice acted promptly.

Attorney General Wickersham began an immediate investigation of Representative Berger's complaint in connection with protests against Judge Hanford's decision in the Olsen case.

LOHMER RESUMES HIS SEAT IN SENATE

Will Address Body When Fight Beginning Today to Oust Him Is On.

Washington, June 3.—Worn and weak, Senator Lorimer of Illinois, the central figure in the greatest election contest fought out in congress for many years, resumed his seat in the senate today. Tomorrow, Senator Kern of Indiana, leading member for the investigating minority committee, which declared his election was brought about by bribery, will begin a series of speeches on the case.

WEALTHY RED FOUND WITH HEAD CHOPPED OFF

Sapulpa, Okla., June 3.—Sam Davis, a wealthy Indian, was found dead beside the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad track between Sapulpa and Kellyville, near here early today. His head had been severed from his body. The authorities are investigating on the theory that Davis met foul play.

Davis was one of the richest Indians in this section of Oklahoma, a graduate of Carlisle and well known over the southwest.

DOCTORS WILL CONSIDER FEE-SPLITTING QUESTION

Atlantic City, N. J., June 3.—The old question of fee-splitting and control of contract practice is expected to receive much attention at the meeting of the house of delegates, the business end of the American Medical Association, which will formally open its 63rd annual convention here tomorrow. The house of delegates held its first meeting today. The fee-splitting question is before the house of delegates through the report of the judicial council.

SHOOT REBELS ACCUSED OF POISONING WATER

Caught With Box of Cyanide in Possession at Mazatlan and Are Executed.

Tucson, Ariz., June 3.—Five rebel conspirators were executed by federal troops today after the discovery of an alleged plot to poison the water supply of Mazatlan, Mex. They were caught Sunday with a box of cyanide in their possession.

Is It Worth It? Costs Six Bones to Bathe Senator

Washington, June 3.—Charging that it costs $6 to bathe a senator in the luxurious bath rooms of the senate office building, Senator Jno. Sharp Williams of Mississippi, today renewed the agitation for the removal of the baths to make place for public documents.

"Let us move out the baths," said Mr. Williams. "There is no need to have the government bathe us. The establishment is a source of public criticism and is of little use. It is like going through a bull pasture with a red flag, which makes a bad impression on the bull. It gives the muck-raker a chance to rake, and the graft isn't worth while. There is no sense in it."

ARCHBOLD PROBE NEAR END.

Washington, June 3.—The judicial committee of the house of representatives has practically concluded its consideration of the charges filed against Judge Robert W. Archbald of the court of commerce. The last witness heard today, H. E. Cole, a coal operator of Philadelphia, was excused to procure letters in his possession and when he returns tomorrow the taking of testimony will close.

WATSON CHARGED WITH MISUSING MAIL

GEORGIAN SAYS ALLEGED OBSCENE MATTER PRINTED IN COPYRIGHTED BOOK.

Augusta, Ga., June 3.—Thomas E. Watson, Georgia delegate at large to the democratic national convention, and one-time popular nominee for the presidency, was arrested at his home at Thompson, Ga., today, on a federal warrant charging him with sending obscene literature through the mails.

After stopping at Watson's guest at midday dinner at Thompson United States Marshal Geo. White escorted the Georgia editor to Augusta this afternoon. A $500 bail was quickly arranged and Friday morning at 11 o'clock fixed for the preliminary hearing after which Watson returned to his home.

To Defend Self.

Mr. Watson has signified his intention of acting as his own counsel in the trial in commenting upon the case against him. Mr. Watson declared that the alleged obscene matter he is charged with circulating in connection with his published attacks on the Roman Catholic hierarchy are quotations from a copyrighted book published in 1895 in Philadelphia. He declares he will fight the case to the finish.

CHINK "QUEEN'S" DESERTION OF CLAN CAUSES BLOODSHED

New York Chinese Battle in Saloon Over Wanda Murphy; One May Die.

New York, June 3.—Wanda Murphy's desertion of a Chinatown gang over whom she had reigned as "queen" has resulted in two pitched battles in Manhattan in the last 24 hours.

The trouble began last night when Jack Seelig, chief of the gang which Wanda Murphy led, his minions to a Chinatown saloon in quest of the queen. There were in the place a score or more able-bodied Chinks lorded over by Louis the Lump, or Louis Seelig, demanded the queen's return. Louis laughed scornfully and there followed a battle in which men dropped and blood spilled. Eventually the conflict grew so noisy that the police took part and several of the leaders were arrested.

When the contending chieftains and their lieutenants were arraigned in court this afternoon many members of the rival gangs gathered outside. There were growlings and mutterings as the law turned its light on the prisoners and after they had been bound over to the grand jury the clankmen clashed outside.

Before the police could interfere a follower of Louis the Lump had shot Seelig and he probably will die. Only one in this afternoon's battle was arrested.

DOCTORS WILL CONSIDER FEE-SPLITTING QUESTION

Atlantic City, N. J., June 3.—The old question of fee-splitting and control of contract practice is expected to receive much attention at the meeting of the house of delegates, the business end of the American Medical Association, which will formally open its 63rd annual convention here tomorrow. The house of delegates held its first meeting today. The fee-splitting question is before the house of delegates through the report of the judicial council.

SHOOT REBELS ACCUSED OF POISONING WATER

Caught With Box of Cyanide in Possession at Mazatlan and Are Executed.

Tucson, Ariz., June 3.—Five rebel conspirators were executed by federal troops today after the discovery of an alleged plot to poison the water supply of Mazatlan, Mex. They were caught Sunday with a box of cyanide in their possession.

LAST STATE OF NATION WILL VOTE TODAY

SOUTH DAKOTANS OF BOTH PARTIES TO EXPRESS CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT.

Clark and Wilson Men Both Claim Victory; Three Corners G. O. P. Battle Is Warm.

Sioux Falls, S. D., June 3.—The primary campaign in South Dakota closed tonight. Interest centers in the contest for the capture of the ten delegates to the national convention.

The campaign between the Clark and Wilson forces has been lively and both sides are claiming victory. The delegates pledged for Wilson will appear on the ballot under the heading "Wilson-Bryan progressive democracy." The original ticket will appear under the heading "Wilson-Clark-Bryan democracy," while a straight Clark ticket also will appear upon the ballots under the heading "Champ Clark for president."

Three Lists in Field.

There are three republican lists of delegates in the field—Taft, Roosevelt and La Follette.

President Taft's supporters are hopeful that with the division of the anti-Taft forces between Roosevelt and La Follette the Taft delegates can be elected. The Roosevelt workers claim that Roosevelt delegates will be elected by pluralities ranging from 10,000 to 15,000.

In the senatorial fight, Senator Gamble is opposed by R. O. Richards, Col. Melvin Grigsby and Thomas Sterling.

GILMER WOULD BUILD EAST TEXAS RAILROAD

INSURANCE AND STOCK AND BOND LAW HAMPERING OPERATIONS, HE SAYS.

A railroad running east from Waco is the latest proposed, and although he refuses to make a definite statement, J. B. Gilmer, formerly connected with the Texas Central with headquarters in Waco and who is now in the city, announces that he will have something to give out within a few days. Mr. Gilmer, following the severing of his connection with the Texas Central, became general manager of the M. O. & G. railroad in Oklahoma, and yesterday took occasion to clear up the facts relative to leaving that road. His resignation was asked, he said, owing to friction which developed.

The railroad proposed by Mr. Gilmer will not be built, he says, until the stock and bond law, and the Robertson insurance law are either repealed or amended. Under the provisions of the stock and bond law, it is impossible to issue bonds on a railroad until the road is completed. The Robertson insurance law is objectionable to the insurance companies, and as much of the money for railroad building comes from organizations of that character, Mr. Gilmer does not believe the companies will be anxious to place money in Texas until the law is made less stringent.

Mr. Gilmer has just returned from New York and says that these are the impressions that are given out there. Money was never easier to secure for operations in other states, he says, but Texas is passed up owing to its laws. He believes that railroad construction work in this state will be held up until after the next legislature, at least.

RED CROSS PREPARES FOR CHICAGO CONVENTION

Corps of Nurses Will Be Ready to Care For Victims of Big Gathering.

Chicago, June 3.—That a corps of Red Cross nurses would be at the republican national convention to answer any emergency calls, was announced today at the opening of the 18th annual convention of the American Society of the Superintendents of Training Schools for Nurses.

DEFICIENCY SET ASIDE TO REBUILD COLLEGE MAIN HALL

By The Associated Press.

Austin, Tex., June 3.—Governor Colquhoun announced during the called meeting of the A. & M. board of directors today that he would set aside a deficiency appropriation to reconstruct the recently burned college main hall and that it would therefore not be necessary to wait on the next legislature for an appropriation. The banks of the state will be asked to cash the deficiency warrants so that work may proceed without delay. Plans for the building are to be outlined and submitted at a meeting of the directorate next Monday. The burning building cost about $100,000. The new structure will probably be larger and therefore costlier.

CLASSIFICATION OF FREIGHT DISCUSSED

TRAFFIC BUREAU OF SOUTH AND WEST OPPOSE WEST-ERN CLASSIFICATION.

Hearing of protests against the adoption of Western Classification No. 51, which was held in Chicago by the Interstate Commerce Commission, was attended by J. C. Dillard, traffic manager of the Waco freight bureau, who returned Monday from a trip north. The classification would permit the assembling in Chicago or other northern or eastern points of carload shipments of freight, made up of a number of small shipments, which would under the proposed classification, take the carload rate to southwestern and western points. The classification was originally announced to go into effect February 15, last. It was later postponed until June 15 and finally until December 15.

This proposition is regarded by retail dealers, jobbers and manufacturers in Texas and the southwest as being a serious menace to their business interests inasmuch as it would permit the large mail order houses, factories and colonial jobbers in Chicago and other large centers in the East to place their products, less than carload in quantity, into Texas and the southwest, upon the same rates as our jobbers who buy and ship largely in straight carload lots.

At the Kansas City and Chicago hearings, representative retail dealers, hardware and grocery jobbers, drug and other jobbers, manufacturers, were present from nearly every state west of the Mississippi river and entered strong protest against the adoption of the above rule, Texas being very largely represented from Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, El Paso and Waco.

The Four States Traffic League was organized at Kansas City by men from Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma, and a meeting will be held in Fort Worth at an early date, at which the classification will be discussed. The officers elected include R. O. McCormack, Fort Worth, president; W. V. Hardie, Oklahoma City, second vice-president; J. C. Dillard of Waco, secretary-treasurer.

MR. RAWLS ADDS GOOD TESTIMONY

Prominent Waco Citizen Has Tested
"Plant Juice" and Now Offers Advice.

Mr. M. C. Rawls has lived in Waco sixteen years, is one of the best known citizens of the city and is the popular manager of the electrical department of the Ambold Sporting Goods people. Previously, for nine years, Mr. Rawls was with the Citizens' Railroad company as electrician, resigning two years ago to accept his present line of work.

Many of Mr. Rawls' friends have known that his health was not the best and many of them now inquire as to the change for the better that has suddenly come to him. To the "Plant Juice" demonstrator at Old Corner drug store, Mr. Rawls said: "I have long suffered with constipation and without finding anything to cure me. ## "CRAZY WITH HEAT" TWO MEN RUN AMUCK

ONE TRIES TO DROWN SELF AND ANOTHER DISHONES AND CAL-
LOPS THROUGH STREET.

Greenwich, Conn., June 3.—"Crazy with the heat" is given as the cause of the antics of two Greenwich men yesterday. August Johnson, 56 years old, tried to drown himself near the Hellhaven Dock, first by jumping into the creek at low tide and sniffling handfuls of water in his nose and mouth and by holding his head under the water. When rescued he broke away and jumped in again. He was put in a padded cell.

High Elliot, 36 years old, disrobed at his home on Railroad avenue and, in Adams garden of Eden attire, paraded through the village streets calling for Eve. Chief of Police Rich came post haste in an automobile. Elliot was wrapped in a blanket and taken to a sanitarium.

POLICEMAN KILLS SELF AND WOMAN IN RESORT

Chicago, June 3.—Nicholas Gill, 26 years old, a city policeman, early today shot and killed a woman known as Julia Johnson and then committed suicide by shooting. The shooting occurred in a house of which the woman was an inmate in the south side levee district. She was 29 years old.

Gill, according to fellow policemen, had called frequently of late to see the woman and is said to have been infatuated with her. The policeman lived with his widowed mother in Lakeview. The police were unable to find anyone who had heard any words pass between the two previous to the shooting.

MOTHER DROWNS WITH CHILDREN SHE WOULD SAVE

By The Associated Press.
Cameron, Idaho, June 3.—Mrs. Howard Trupper, a widow, and her two sons, Otto, aged 15, and James, 11, were drowned yesterday on their homestead near here. The boys were in bathing and the elder got beyond his depth. James ran to the house for help and the mother rushed to the pond and jumped in. The drowning boy caught his mother around the neck with one hand and with the other clung to James, who also had plunged in. The three went down together.

HOT WELL COMMITTEE TO TAKE FINAL ACTION

CHAIRMAN SAM SANGER CALLS
MEETING FOR TODAY—TOTAL
OF $10,000 IN PLEDGES.

The organization and soliciting committee for the hot well in Waco has been called by Chairman Sam Sanger to meet in the office of the Waco Real Estate Exchange this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The committee has pledged and subscriptions amounting to over $10,000 and it is announced that a definite decision as to whether to proceed with the work and endeavor to secure more funds or drop the whole proposition will be considered.

The various team captains who were appointed sometime ago did not much soliciting work but did not meet with the proper response, they announce, from several Waco men and concerns. Following the meeting this afternoon, the work will either be prosecuted, or pledges and subscriptions will be destroyed.

A number of Wacoans are still firm in the belief that a strata of hot water underlies the city and are willing to put their faith and money in the proposition. The agitation has been in progress for several weeks and it is thought that action will be precipitated this afternoon.

JUNE HEATS 'EM.

By The Associated Press.

New York, June 3.—It costs more to live, this month of June, 1912, than ever before in the history of the United States except perhaps during war times. Prices were high a year ago, but today they are on the average, near ten per cent higher now, according to trade authority. Food products are the highest on record, butter, fish, coffee, tea, sugar, salt, molasses, rice, beans and peas average 22 per cent higher; wheat, corn, oats, barley, flour, etc., 33 per cent higher.

Can't Live On Fruit.

Fruits are the only things good to eat that have grown cheaper during the last 12 months, but they are still higher than 1910.

Leather products cost 12 per cent more than a year ago. Textile goods, however, are a trifle cheaper.

The average increase in food is nearly 20 per cent higher, which means that the housewife must pay $6 to fill a market basket that only cost her $5 to fill in June, 1911. In other words, $1 will only buy five-sixths as much as it did a year ago.

Meat Advances Greatest.

The biggest advances have been in meat products, beef 26 per cent more than a year ago. Mutton and pork products 40 per cent and mutton over 50 per cent. Dealers lay the increase to last year's poor hay crop and the general high cost of animal provender. Poor crops are also held responsible for dearer breadstuffs.

Economists differ as to the reason for the general upward tendency of all commodities during recent years which has been world-wide.

MISS KATE FRIEND, Editor.

TUESDAY BRIDGE TODAY

WITH MRS. RYLANDER
The Tuesday bridge is having its first morning game for the summer season today. This will be in the home of Mrs. J. P. Sample with Mrs. Dorothy Rylander hostess.

TWO PUPILS RECITALS

INVITATIONS ISSUED
Mrs. Virginia Ryan has issued invitations to two of her closing pupils' recitals. These occur at the library on Wednesday afternoon and Thursday evening and will find presenting the numbers: Misses Louise Womack, Beryl McIntyre, Thyrta Reede, Roberta Spencer, Mary McIntyre, Marguerite McIntyre, Pearl Warner, Gertrude Haythorne, white, Irene Bruck, Helen Crawley, Mary Belle Wood, Marie Blocker, Adele Vesey, Bertha Gibson, Marjorie Minnock, Lillie Minnock, Annie Roper, with Marian Martin and McLeod McIntire.

BEAU NOTS HAVE GAME

WITH MISS SPENCER
The last session of the Beau Nots found a jolly game of Jenkins with Miss Hazel Spencer. There were several special guests and the usual good time for these congenial girls. The game favors were taken by Misses Lucile Hill and Roberta Rogers. Now that the school set is to take possession of summer society, the Beau Nots will be quite in evidence. Miss Celia Moore is mentioned as the next hostess.

MRS. BAKER HOSKINS

HAS MOVING COMPANY
In anticipation of her early departure from here, Mrs. Baker Hoskins called in a morning company of matrons, each to take fancy work, and to enjoy the hour quite as a social. This was no real social function, but the tact message from Mrs. Hoskins of appreciation to those who showed her first courtesy as a new-comer. There was much of pleasure in this circle of twenty but little of the conventional, since the summer relaxation precludes that.

AID SOCIETY AT JACKBILLON

MRS. JOHN BAKER HOSTESS
It is the custom of the Aid society of the Columbus Baptist church to cultivate the social side of life whenever it arrives at a fifth Friday. This was done in May, and found Mrs. John Baker inviting the society to enjoy her always attractive suburban home, Jackbillon. There was quite a large attendance, among those specially welcomed being the pastor, Reverend Frank Grover. More than fifty responded to Mrs. Baker's invitation, the most notable guest being Miss Swan from Baltimore, who was here to speak that afternoon at the First Baptist church. Following the now prevailing exercises there was a short prayer service, led by the pastor, and then an abandonment to the enjoyment of the beautiful Baker home and park. Refreshments were served and an unusually pleasant afternoon afforded the society.

NOTES FROM MRS. SHERWOOD

ALWAYS INTERESTING HERE
A letter was received from Mrs. Jean Sherwood from Chicago on Monday. To the many here who are interested in anything which pertains to Shakespeare, it is quite interesting to hear Mrs. Sherwood relate of a wonderful Shakespeare pageant which was given on Shakespeare's birthday in Lincoln Park. These pageants are coming into American life borrowed from the English who have made a revival of them for the past five seasons. They are wonderful things. The idea is to reproduce as nearly realistic as possible epochs from the history of certain places. The costumes, the scenic effects, the speaking parts, with music, dances, and such are true to the time depicted, usually the several epochs which made the transition from past to present. A park is generally selected and the afternoon for the presentation. A temporary pavilion is erected to protect in case of rain. Each section is in hiding somewhere in the mammoth park, and the cues are given by means of telephonic connection, the station being overhead. Thus, it seems that the great panorama moves by magic as none of the signals are seen nor heard. This Shakespeare must have been a wonderful production, doubtless as a contribution to the world fund now being raised for a million dollar memorial to Shakespeare in London. One of the interesting features is the collection of Shakespeare post cards, which Mrs. Sherwood sends, the art work of the students in the Art Institute. They each represent a play and are exceedingly clever. The pageant was under the auspices of the Chicago Woman's Club.

Mrs. Sherwood is going out for her usual summer in Boulder. She will be at Blue Bird cottage near the Chautauqua grounds. The cottage will be open for its second season on June 15th. Last season, the first for the Blue Bird flight, found fifty girls enjoying their vacation. Only self-supporting women are eligible. Eighteen guests are received at a time, each with a single room. Mrs. Sherwood will be "house mother" this season. Many of the Waco women visited Blue Cottage last season there, and are enthusiastic in their praise of what this haven is for the working girl's vacation.

FROM MRS. SCOTT TO

MRS. FLORA CAMERON
One of the pleasures in a review to Mrs. Flora Cameron was a morning in the always hospitable home of Mrs. S. R. Scott. Since resuming housekeeping, this is Mrs. Scott's first social courtesy. In selecting her guests for an informal morning hour, she invited those who are most congenial to Mrs. Cameron. Her special courtesy lay in the request that each guest provide some trifle to be retained by Mrs. Cameron during her trip through Europe. The response resulted in dainty little bouquets, pieces, note books, and other articles to the tourist. First, though, there was the fun of making a button hole. The judges rewarded Mrs. William Talley with a beautiful fan and Mrs. Edward Bolton with a fancy dresser piece. The luncheon was served in two courses. Mrs. Cameron was showered with all the dignity which carries the same favor to a bride. The morning was one of the decided pleasures of the new season. It afforded opportunity for a last hour with Mrs. Flora Cameron for Misses John Henshaw, William Cameron, Edward Rotan, William Talley, Charles Hamilton, J. W. Hale, Norman Shumate, Alfred Abel, S. A. Carothers, Cutler of Dallas, and Gabriel Winter.

THE HICKEY WEDDING

BRINGS HAPPY REMINISCENCES
The marriage of Wednesday of Harvey Mac Richey brings to many of the old citizens of this community a very interesting piece of reminiscence concerning the Richey family. There was, way back in Tennessee, long before the war, an old beech grove and in it an old-time country school house. There were boys in all the glory of the country who met and became friends in this old school. The war came. These boys shouldered muskets, and returned home from the four years' fight, each under the necessity of seeking another home and of repairing the fallen fortune of the family. They, several of them, turned their attention to Texas. Here, in the little village of Waco, where the remains of the Indian camps were still to be seen, they met again. Happy was the reunion, so happy that there was at once a proposal that once a year all should lay down whatever of worry and care should be, and meet to exchange experiences of the old beech grove days and to relate the best experiences in the Texas home. Thus there came into existence the Cornerstone club. There were only men members, but soon there were wives and later children to come with the Cornerstone friends. The last of these sons is Harvey Mac Richey. When the club formed, each member filled a bottle with wine, inscribed his name and handed it to the secretary. This bottle was to be drunk in silence by the remaining members at the annual Cornerstone dinner. For years there were no bottles unsealed, but soon they came thick and fast, and now not a member of the Cornerstone club is in the city. William Holt tells that his father, the late John F. Holt, was too young to be one of the old Tennessee schoolmates, but he came to Texas from Cornerstone and was made an honorary member of the club and given the privilege to entertain at the annual dinners. William Holt tells of having attended these affairs even from the days of his pinafores. He tells that it was a rule of the club that there should be only a dinner such as was served in the old ante bellum Cornerstone days—and such dinners. By and by grandchildren came to attend the famous dinners, three generations to honor the old home which had transferred representative citizens to the new town. These men who made the Cornerstone club are Frank Richey, Harvey Richey, Tom Richey, Dr. W. H. Wilkes, Judge E. P. Massey and J. K. Street. These honored names are now known here only through the descendants, many of whom are still in this city. Thus it comes that the marriage of Harvey Mac Richey to Miss Willie Seley on Wednesday evening is an occasion which brings reminiscence and places his name in honored memory, a name made by makers of Waco history, a name which he sustains.

MRS. EDWARD MARSHALL

COMPLIMENTS MISS SELEY
In the round of ante nuptial courtesy which Miss Willie Seley is enjoying, the first in which she had the out of town guests who have come for her wedding was in the beautiful sweet pea luncheon given by Mrs. Edward Marshall. In the arrangement Mrs. Marshall not only patronized one of society's favorite flowers, but she so arranged that a beautiful table picture was presented. There was a brass center basket holding the pea blossoms by the hundreds. The same was found in miniature at each plate, with the place card. Miss Seley's chair was bunched with the fragrant blossom caught with a gold corsage shoe. Marine cables gave the softening effect of an honored seat. The courses were in keeping with this effective arrangement, and so served as to detain the merry circle until the afternoon was well consumed. There were in this luncheon circle Miss Seley, Mrs. Ira Seley, Mrs. Rives Posten, Miss Johnson of Corsicana, Miss Emma Kate Johnson of Corsicana, Miss Harvey Wallace from Beaumont, Miss Minniebell Webb from Albany, Miss Marguerite Brown, Miss Alice Lee Boynton, Miss Mary Glover. These certain each her place favor, while Miss Seley was presented the centerpiece.

Society Notes.

It seems now that the Priscillas are disbanded by mutual consent until cool weather. There is no mention of a hostess in the immediate future.

Miss Celia Moore is to supplement her graduation by a delightful summer trip. It is her present plan to return to New York City with Mrs. Banton Moore, and to spend the season sightseeing, with her relatives, and to make stops at the interesting points such as Washington City en route home.

A note from far-away New Jersey comes from Mr. and Mrs. Rentfro Banton, who have been absent from Waco many years, so many that there is now a young son ready for entrance into Columbia University. It is the intention of Mr. and Mrs. Banton to take residence in the city in order that they may be with their son during his university course.

Mrs. Bob Banto, who was reported so ill in Sicily during the winter is now in New York City. Mr. Banton took steamer as soon as he heard of her illness and returned home with Mrs. Banton. She has not resumed her advanced voice study since her illness and has no plans for returning to study abroad.

Miss Nannette McIntlock, who will attend Miss Early at her marriage, entertains in Miss Early's honor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Ed Brown of North Tenth, Miss Daisy Brown, Miss Ruby Farley of the South Side, Miss Mildred Hiner of Granbury and Master Van Brown are one of the first parties for the coast. They leave on Wednesday for Rockport, where they have a cottage for two months.

THE ELMO THEATER

Waco's best and most popular picture show, commencing today, will have its anniversary week, each day being a feature. A program consisting of only first-run pictures and high-class vaudeville. In this connection it is interesting to know that Waco has been placed on the map in the moving picture world. It is now possible to show the pictures in Waco at the earliest possible date that they can be shown, not even New York, Chicago or any of the larger cities excepted. By special arrangement, each day will be a feature, something new and never before shown, and a show superb and amazing at the price, 5 cents.

The management takes this opportunity of thanking the show-loving public for its liberal patronage the past year, and assures them there will be nothing left undone to merit a continuance of this spontaneous expression of appreciation of our efforts to give the best show for the money. All of which has been far above our most sanguine expectations. The management will continue at all times to give an entertainment consistent with good taste and moral.

James and Ward Sisters, in "The Mechanical Doll" and the Dance of the roses, is the feature in vaudeville, which can be seen each day, 11 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. in Ambold Co.'s show window. This act will be in connection with feature pictures. The Elmo will continue to have the best show for the price. Tuesday of each week will be shown the addition to our regular program, "The Animated Weekly," the world's greatest picture.

Miss Florence Lawrence, the greatest actress in moving pictures, will appear in the Victor film under the direction of Harry Salter, who directed all Imp and Lubin productions in which she appeared. Miss Marion Leonard in the Gem film, under the direction of George Nichols, until recently in charge of the Thanhouser and Biograph company. Also King Buzgot, the great Imp. silent actor, will be seen only at the Elmo. Other announcements later.

"PEEPING TOM" COMPLAINTS MADE, NEGRO ARRESTED

In rapid succession two cases of alleged "Peeping Toms" were reported to the police station about 11 o'clock Monday night. Soon after the first case was reported from the residence of M. Coates, 514 Tyler street, East Waco, Sam Hollingsworth, a negro, was arrested by Patrolman George Barnard, and was locked up in the city jail. A charge was registered against him.

The other brry-up call came from the residence of P. W. Stricker, 703 South Fifth street. Mrs. Stricker said she saw a man peering into a window in the room, where a woman friend and herself were sitting. Although a thorough search was made, no trace of the alleged "Peeping Tom" could be found. Station Officers John Morgan and Joe Carlisle answered the call on horse back, while the auto patrol also responded to the call. The women were alone at the time and were thoroughly frightened.

MISTROT-CALAHAN MONEY RAISING SALE REAL THING

STORE THROGGED MONDAY BY EAGER CROWD OF BUYERS WHO FIND BARGAINS.

Throghed all day with eager seekers after bargains, the opening day of the Money Raising Sale inaugurated yesterday by Mistrot-Calahan company proved to be one of the merchandising events of the year.

This company enjoys the enviable reputation of being truthful advertisers, so when the announcement of the Money Raising Sale was made the buying public immediately knew that the event would be a bona-fide opportunity to secure bargains—dependable goods at low prices.

They were not disappointed. Many persons who entered the store halfheartedly, expecting to find a few "leaders," were surprised to find instead an unreserved effort in progress to raise money. "We must have $20,000" is the slogan of the company—and, judging by the first day's business, they will not be long in getting it.

The great surprise of the sale is the fact that a majority of the bargains presented are of the season's freshest and newest goods, late models of ready-to-wear fashions for the women, sheer fabrics for those who are adept in the use of the needle; lovely dresses for the little girls, as well as staple vacation gingham and bright hair ribbons and all the other things that keep the young miss dressed up with the least effort during the hot summer days; sport clothes for the boys; everything needed by the baby, shirts and socks and ties, so on for the men—in fact, the sale is a comprehensive one, embracing an offering of seasonable goods for every member of the family.

And the prices! The wonder of it all is in the prices.

"I don't understand how you can offer such staple goods at such low prices," said one lady yesterday afternoon, as she looked over a large supply of Amoskag gingham at the lowest price she had ever been able to obtain them. "I must just shut my eyes and back out of the store before my husband gets a divorce on the grounds of my being a bargain hunter."

But before she could shut her eyes she saw some standard table linen on display at a price which she just last evening had paid for the same. "I couldn't resist," she said, "I needed the linen and I never will be able to buy it so cheap again; and, besides, I bought my husband some things."

As announced by the company, the sale will continue indefinitely—but, judging from the sales yesterday, it would be well to at least look at the offerings as soon as possible—as it won't take long to raise the required money.

TEXAS AGRICULTURAL CAR GAINS COMMENT

EXTENSIVE EXHIBITS OF FARMS AND RANCHES MADE IN NORTHERN STATES.

Special to The Morning News.

Fayette, Mo., June 3.—A pleasing reception is being accorded the Central-West Texas Agricultural exhibit car, which recently left Waco for a four months' trip through the northern states, covering Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois, under the management of Colonel Rufus J. Lackland of Fort Worth.

The car has an extensive exhibit of the products of the ranch, farm, orchard and garden, most artistically arranged by the assistant manager, Sidney C. Lackland. The many compliments received are the endorsement of his talents and ability. From 300 to 500 visitors are shown through the car daily, and the merits of each community is fully explained by able representatives.

All visitors carry away the printed matter and folders of the towns that impress them the most, and much good will result from this great exhibit and enterprising venture so nicely planned by Colonel Lackland. From two to three days are spent in every town. While some of the Texas towns have not responded as they should, the loss is their own, for the greatest advertising scheme ever undertaken in the interest of Texas. Flattering mention is accorded by the papers in all towns visited.

The general expression of those who see the car is that it is the best they have ever seen. Among the many fine exhibits, that of Waco shows up to good advantage, but all the exhibits need renewing from time to time, and some towns overlooked important matters in the hurry of preparing the exhibit. Anything neglected should be attended to at once.

The route for the next two weeks will be: Centralia, Mo., June 5-6; Mexico, Mo., June 7-8; Vandalia, Mo., June 9-10; Bowling Green, Mo., June 12-13.

Address all mail to Rufus J. Lackland, Manager "Texas Exhibit Car."

NEW YORK SEES BAROON HUNT.

Special to The Morning News.
New York, June 3.—Fifth avenue and Broadway had a baroon hunt today. It was just as thrilling as any that ever took place in the jungle and perhaps more so, because most of the hunters were unarmed. Therefore, the baroon had a better chance in a hand-to-hand encounter than those after her, as was demonstrated once when she bit Arthur Mason, 17 years old, of East Thirty-third street, in the leg.

The hunt ended when the animal's keeper, George Setler, gathered her into his arms. But the troubles of the baroon had only just begun, for she was arrested charged with assault, taken to the West Thirtieth street station and there paroled in the custody of Setler.

The baroon was a "female of the species," five feet in height and strong. She escaped from a warehouse at 143 West Thirty-third street and ran into Broadway, with a crowd of several hundred persons following her.

Setler heard of the escape a few minutes afterward and ran out shouting for the baroon. It didn't take him long to get on the trail of the animal, for hundreds of persons caught sight of her as she scurried through Thirty-third street to Sixth avenue and then north to Broadway.

A special policeman saw the fugitive and joined in the chase. At this time young Mason seized the animal and was bitten in the leg. He promptly let go.

Policemen, men and women finally chased the baroon into the hallway of 30 West Thirty-fifth street, where the janitor shouted to the officers:

"You'll have to take this out of here. The tenants won't stand for it."

"Take her out yourself," replied Patrolman Terry, of the traffic squad, who then drew his revolver and was preparing to shoot the animal when Setler came along and gathered her into his arms.—Baltimore Sun.

BAG OF JEWELS SPURNED BY A NEW YORK CROWD

Thousands on Pier Watch Boy Try To Give Away Gems Worth $100,000.

Special to The Morning News.

New York, June 3.—Would you take a bag containing about $100,000 worth of jewelry if it were handed to you?

About a dozen persons on board the Kaiserlin Auguste Victoria and on the Hamburg-American dock were offered such a bag and spurned it as if it contained cholera germs. The possessor of the bag was a lad who had been carrying the bag and another parcel to the vessel. The lad lost the woman among the 5000 on the pier and the Kaiserlin. He did not know her name. He hunted about the vessel for half an hour and as the bugles were blowing for "All ashore," he walked down the gangway and there offered the bag to a dozen men who were going aboard.

"Please take this on board and take it to the lady who owns it." His efforts being in vain, he put the bag on the pier and sat on it. On board an excited woman was making inquiries about the bag.

There is nearly $100,000 worth of jewels in it. The lady who held the bag until it got it," she asked one of the officers. She told the officer her name, which sounded like Hayes or Rays.

Five minutes before sailing time she rushed down the gangway to see the baggage man. She saw the boy, pounced upon him and grabbed the bag. She opened the bag, and seeing the jewels safe, shut it up with a sigh of relief.

She gave the lad a quarter, kissed him on the cheek and hurried aboard.

The female of the species is more restless than the male.—Chicago Herald.

DIVORCE SNATCHES CHILD FROM MOTHER

"MAMMA, PLEASE DON'T GO WITHOUT ME!" LITTLE GIRL CRIES IN COURT.

Special to The Morning News.

New York, June 3.—In Justice Goff's part of the supreme court, after the justice had granted to Captain Leland D. Potter a decree of absolute divorce and the custody of his 6-year-old daughter, Mary Elizabeth, Mrs. Potter, the mother, moved brokenly from the courtroom. Then the little girl, who for two days had heard witnesses' stories of the misconduct of her mother with two men, sprang to her feet at the side of her father, and across the courtroom, filled with the curious, shouted to the woman, now in the corridor:

"Mamma, oh! mamma, please don't you go without me! Oh, mamma, you won't go away without me!"

All in Court Moved? There was a silence in the courtroom, during which cries of the little girl and the answering sobs of the woman in the corridor were heard plainly by all there and aroused an answering emotion in the spectators.

Suddenly Justice Goff pounded his gavel. In a low voice, hardly audible, he asked the mother's attorneys to suggest a time when Mrs. Potter be permitted to see her daughter.

"I would like a little time in which to consult my client, your honor," one of the lawyers said.

The court granted the request, and the attorney joined the mother in the corridor, but he could get no answer. The woman only moaned and wrung her hands.

The lawyer returned to the courtroom and told Justice Goff he found it impossible to get her to talk.

"If your honor please," the lawyer said, "I would like to suggest that the mother be allowed to see the child once a week."

"That request I will grant," answered Justice Goff.

Cannot Keep Child. "And also, your honor," the lawyer went on, "that she be permitted to have the child two days a week."

"No, I shall not grant that," the justice exclaimed. "You see, counsel, this wife has no legal right at all to see the child—an erring wife has no rights. It is a matter of grace. A wife who has been unfaithful to her vows cannot be regarded in equity as being faithful to her child. I shall see that this child shall not be under her influence. I am considering the child's interests more than I am the mother's interests. I am satisfied in every sense of the term that the child would be far better off with the mother of this husband."

Counsel for Mrs. Potter then asked that Mary Elizabeth be sent to live with her uncle, but Justice Goff insisted that she be sent to the home of William Tait and his wife, Captain Potter's mother, at Sound Beach, Conn., where the divorcing wife may go to visit the child once a week.

Little Girl Cries Again. The little girl, still crying, was led out of the courtroom by her grandmother. In the corridor she saw her mother, a wilted figure, holding to a railing for support.

"Mamma, oh, mamma, I knew you wouldn't let them take me away from you—I just knew you wouldn't," and the child had run to her mother.

Two little arms clasped the woman's neck. The mother took the child into her arms and kissed her again and again.

Then down through the corridors they carried Mary Elizabeth, struggling to escape with all the strength she could muster and shouting:

"Oh, mamma, come take me, mamma! Mamma! I want my mamma!" Outside in City Hall park a child and grandmother stood a moment, while Mary Elizabeth looked up at the gray building, where she had left her own mother alone.

When a train for South Beach, Conn., pulled out of the Grand Central station a tear-stained little face was flattened against the window.

REPTILE PARTY PLANNED BY UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

Chicago Men Will Honor Ten Million-Year-Old Giant Lizard's Skeleton in Museum.

Special to The Morning News.

Chicago, June 3.—Students of the University of Chicago plan a "reptile party." The party will be held in the Walker museum and the guest of honor is known as "Lizzie," the skeleton of a gigantic lizard of prehistoric days.

Some of the students first suggested the function as a joke, but the proposal gained in popularity as its novelty was contemplated. The skeleton is about 16 feet in length and according to expert opinion must have lived about 10,000,000 years ago. It was obtained by the university's special expedition in Northern Arizona last summer.

"Lizzie's" party dress is to consist of colored ribbons tied in bows. Pink tea will be served in her honor. Guests as they enter must be presented formally. Deference must be paid "Lizzie" on account of her age. Each is expected "to say something cute" to the "guest" before leaving for home.

MUSICIANS AT BAYLOR GIVE PROGRAM

RECEIVE DIPLOMAS TOMORROW. YOUNG WOMEN'S SOCIETIES ENTERTAIN.

College Classes and Alumni Association Meet Today—Graduation Wednesday.

Musicians had an inning at Baylor University yesterday on the third day of the sixty-sixth annual commencement of that institution. Beginning with the graduating recital of the music department at 10 o'clock yesterday morning and concluding with the band concert at night, there was music galore and the lovers of the finest of fine arts were well pleased with the day's offerings.

There was a large attendance upon the various programs, and the graduates who appeared on the morning program had numerous friends to attend and appreciate their individual parts. There has been no stronger class of musicians go out from Baylor in recent years than those who gave their final recitals yesterday and who will receive a diploma from the fine arts department tomorrow.

On the list of graduates were Miss Lyn Wood, Hubbard, pipe organ; J. C. Mathis, Temple, voice; Miss B. Bettie, Valley Mills, piano; Miss Sammie Cobb, Corsicana, violin; Miss Belle Presley, West, piano; and Miss Lois Noble, Kerens, voice.

No less pleasant were the reunions of the young women's societies yesterday afternoon when the Callopanes and R. C. B's. rendered a special program each in behalf of their old members attending commencement and followed these up with receptions in honor of the old members of former days and enough reminiscence in the programs to make them appeal to the society members of former days and enough of the social elements to make them pleasant for everybody. Philomatheans were welcomed to the reception tented by the Callopanes and the Eriophians were also cordially received by the R. C. B's. in their social function.

On the Callopan program there was included an address of welcome by the president, a piano solo by Miss Roba Rich, a recitation talk on "The Callopan Society" as it was by Mrs. W. H. Jenkins; another talk on "Callopanism from the standpoint of an ex-Callopan" by Mrs. W. A. Wood of Hubbard; a piano solo by Nora Tommie Gibson; a talk on "Callopan Possibilities" by Miss Cleo Frost of Mineral Wells; a violin solo by Miss Sammie Cobb of Corsicana; reminiscences led by Miss Mabel Wayland, and the conferring of degrees by the president.

For the entertainment of the old members, the R. C. B's. offered a welcome address by Miss Jessie Compere, president; a violin solo by Miss Effie Phillips; "The Place of Society in College Life," by Miss Martha Cosby; a vocal solo by Mrs. B. B. McReynolds; "What Society Has Meant to Me," by Miss Erma Blegg and Mrs. Modris Falkner. Both programs were well attended and both receptions enjoyed.

Promptly at 9 o'clock this morning, members of the various college classes will gather on the campus for a brief social reunion and at 9:30 o'clock the annual business session of the Alumni Association will be held. Officers will be elected at that time.

Following the business session, Judge John C. Townes of Austin, dean of the law school of the University of Texas, will deliver the annual address to the Alumni Association. Judge Townes is regarded as one of the most learned legal scholars in the state and the general public is invited to hear his address as well as attend all the other functions of commencement week.

Tonight the special attraction will be the annual concert by the music faculty, university and girls club, to which only adult persons are invited.

Wednesday will witness the climax of the week with the commencement exercises proper. Dr. John E. White of Atlanta, Ga., will deliver the baccalaureate address and President Brooks will present the diplomas. The annual banquet of the Alumni Association at the Huaco club Wednesday night will conclude the week's exercises.

People from the city in large numbers joined the residents of the Baylor community last night in attending the concert by the Baylor band, which proved one of the most popular attractions of commencement week, so far. This interest was enhanced by the fact that a number of the performers were local boys.

While Prof. Charles W. Parker had arranged a program for the event that was well balanced in every respect those numbers possessing the local flavor proved particularly appealing to the audience. For instance, the cornet duet entitled "Hawthorn," (Vander Cook) by Shapard Allen, son of Registrar and Mrs. F. M. Allen, and Allen Sanford Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan D. Sanford, was accorded a very hearty reception, as was the song for trombone and cornet, (As-cher), rendered by Earl Busby, a local boy, and Prof. Parker. Local interest centered again in a march entitled "Hoffmannetta March," dedicated to Postmaster W. H. Hoffman by Prof. Parker. The composition is a very beautiful one and friends of the genial postmaster were strong in their manifestation of applause when it was played by the band as the last number on the program.

Ever popular with Baylor and town people as well who have come to know them and their work were Miss Sammie Cobb, violinist, in "Hungarian Dance," (Brahms-Joachim), and Miss Lois Noble, vocalist, in "Spring Song," by Weil.

PAY REFUSED, HE SHOTS LANDLORD AND ANOTHER

Boarder Opens Fire Following Disagreement in Accounts—Hits Innocent Victim.

Baltimore, June 3.—Amelia Clinico, 25 years old, of 742 Catharine street, was shot in the head and Joseph Bruno, 39 years, who lived at the Hotel Taft, Seventh and Christian streets, was shot in the left thigh by Adolph Salirro, 742 Catharine street, at noon yesterday. Both will recover. Salirro is at large.

Salirro, who was a boarder at Clinico's home, worked for the latter Wednesday, while his landlord attended a funeral, and yesterday morning appeared at the grocery in which Clinico is employed, demanding his wages for the day's service. Clinico, claiming that Salirro owed him $2.25 from room rent, refused to pay him this amount of wages.

Salirro returned to his room, picked up a revolver, and waiting until his victim stepped from the store, shot him in the head. He fired several shots, one of which went wide of its mark striking Bruno, who was standing across the street. The latter did not realize that he had been shot for some minutes, and gave chase to Salirro, who escaped down an alley. Both victims were taken to the Pennsylvania hospital.

CIRCUS OUTWITS WATER COMPANY

Special to The Morning News.

York, P. June 3.—Show men who are attached to a circus which exhibited here today are telling a story of how they outwitted the York Water company, which tried to extort, as they allege, a large sum of money for the water consumed by the show people and the animals.

When the water company refused to lower its rate the circus people loaded up 2000 gallons of water in two great tanks at Sunbury, where they exhibited yesterday. This water was brought to York and used for cooking and drinking purposes. The livestock was watered in the Codorus creek.

URGES "OPEN" SCHOOLS FOR DELICATE PUPILS

Doctor Cornell Also Says These Children Should Be Fed A Expense of the City.

Baltimore, June 3.—Plans to establish a system of outdoor schools where anemic and delicate children of the public schools can recuperate and be built up physically have been made by Dr. Walter S. Cornell, head of the medical inspection in the schools.

Doctor Cornell has asked councils to appropriate $3000 to feed the children, who, he declares, must be properly nourished if they are to remain out of the hospital and to be saved from becoming public charges.

The plan includes the establishment of two new open-air schools, one at Twentieth street and Fairmount avenue and one in West Philadelphia, also care by the city of pupils who have been under the supervision of the Phipps Institute for the last year on the roof of the College Settlement, as well as two pupils in the open-window school at wealth and Wharton streets.

"There are hundreds of children in the public schools now," said Doctor Cornell yesterday, "who must be taken out of the routine of indoor life and be placed in the fresh air for their studies. If the city does not appropriate the money for the care of these children now, it will have them on its hands in the future, for scores of them will likely develop into tubercular men and women."

It is essential that they be fed. Many of them are suffering from lack of nourishment and it is useless to argue that the city will pauperize them by giving them strength and ability to be self-supporting when they are older. The Phipps Institute has discontinued the meals that were served to the children on the roof of the college settlement, and somebody must look after these pupils. The board of education does not supply food, therefore the councils must be asked to step in."

It has been calculated by Doctor Cornell that the pupils can be given plain food, including milk, bread and butter and soup, for $75 a year for each school, and that it will take $3000 to see them through the coming school term.

Doctor Cornell has also asked for an appropriation for $100 for spectacles for school children. One hundred children, he said, have been found by the medical inspectors to have defective vision, and as the department in city hall is already overcrowded and overworked, he requests that an additional appropriation be made by councils to relieve the acute condition. The children can be prescribed for at dispensaries and glasses procured for $1 a pair.

TAFT OUT OF IT.

If anything were needed to put a final quietus on the hopes of President Taft to succeed himself as the Republican presidential candidate, New Jersey furnished it. Colonel Roosevelt's overwhelming victory in the presidential preference primary, following his success in Mr. Taft's own state and other decisive victories, indicates beyond successful dispute that President Taft does not hold the confidence of his party and that his nomination at Chicago is practically impossible.

It is true that, in spite of the numerous Roosevelt victories, Taft appears to have, on the face of things, a majority of the delegates. However, it is notorious that many of these—particularly the Southern delegates—are not held to the president by any strong ties of loyalty or affection. These delegates, while nominally for Taft, will be ready to clamber onto the band wagon at the first opportunity. To change the simile they are like the proverbial rats, ready to desert the sinking ship when the distress signals are sent out.

Taft is now practically eliminated from the race at Chicago. The nominee will be either Roosevelt or a dark horse. But the defeat of Taft does not by any means assure the nomination of Teddy. There are many things to be taken into consideration. While Taft cannot hold all his nominal delegates, there are a large number of them whose opposition to Roosevelt is sincere and bitter, and these cannot be stampeded to the colonel. The "old guard" will fight desperately to prevent the nomination of the man who has humiliated and reviled them. No less bitter in his opposition is La Follette. He also believes and declares that Roosevelt's pretended espousal of progressive doctrines is a sham. La Follette will have not less than 36 delegates in the convention to start with. These 36 votes will never go to Roosevelt, but on the other hand, they may be largely augmented by accessions from the Taft ranks—not on principle but as a measure of revenge against Roosevelt. It is hardly likely, however, that La Follette can be nominated. If Roosevelt fails to land, the nomination is more likely to go to a "dark horse." Most prominent of those who have been mentioned in this contingency is Justice Hughes who, in spite of his repeated declarations that he would not be a candidate, may be drafted. Another name recently suggested is that of Robert Todd Lincoln, son of the martyred president, who not long ago publicly rebuked Roosevelt for his comparisons of himself to Abraham Lincoln. Robert Todd Lincoln is a trifle old for a presidential candidate—his age is 69—but he is physically vigorous. He has taken no active interest in politics in the past two score years and consequently has not become embroiled in factional disputes. It would require a wide stretch of imagination, however, to picture him as a progressive.

But no matter what may be the outcome of the Chicago convention, the Republican party will be badly split. Two, and possibly three, tickets, each professing to be the only simon pure representative of genuine Republican principles, may be in the field. In the event of Roosevelt's nomination it is whispered that the "old guard" will bolt and set up a second ticket. Roosevelt has already threatened what he would do if the "bosses" prevailed at Chicago. And it is believed by many who know the irreconcilable hostility of La Follette to Roosevelt, that in the event of the latter's success at Chicago, the Wisconsin man will head a ticket of his own. The Republican situation has degenerated into a free-for-all fight, not to win, but to prevent the other fellow from winning.

Don't give up because you have made a failure of a venture. If you will try again with earnestness and hope you may be able to build again your shattered fortune, and make an honest living. No matter how much any man accumulates, he can only use to advantage a certain amount of it, and he who makes an honest living has as much as the man who has millions. You will always find loyal, royal souls who are ready to help any one who wants to build again a broken business. Failure is no crime. Many men have failed many times, before that success came that was final and lasting. The man who loses hope is the most miserable of human beings, and is a pitiable object, drifting upon the tide like a helmless vessel.

When the rain goes patter-patter on the roof tops, and the great gray clouds go scudding across the dark sky, strangely varied thoughts come into our minds. Some of us are saddened by the gloom and the slow drip-drip of the falling drops, while others think of the joy and gladness that the shower is bringing to the farmer. Again, others are transported into a land of fleeting figures that come and go as the sheets of rain rush and recede and shimmering shadows that seem to beckon irresistibly from the regions of the fancy world. Some are seized with a desire to read, and with a book they tuck themselves away and there laugh and cry as each succeeding chapter unfolds joy and happiness or sorrow and desolation. Which feeling do you experience? Do you feel a heavy load upon your heart and inwardly speak your discontent, or do you plan and dream as the light comes and goes and the panes rattle with the gusts of wind? Do you delight in an open window where you can watch the storm in all its glory, or do you wish for the closed study and the open book, 'neath the lamp-light? Perhaps you become energetic and long to accomplish some indoor work while the dampness outside prevents labor there; or do you feel indolent and wish only to laze away the time and watch and dream and forget the world with all its cares? Many thoughts come to us when the sheets of rain come pouring down or when the slow patter of the drizzle is heard, but each have their own dreams and feelings at this time. The influence of nature is always great and it is never more so than when the wind whistles around the corners and the rain comes falling down, making our brains theaters where we enact dream dramas—where many actors participate and many scenes are played.

A prominent man in Texas once married a woman whom he loved very much, but nothing that he could do seemed to make her contented. He had an excellent home, but he sold it and built her another one, which he furnished with lavishness. It was one of the very handsomest homes in the city, in a fashionable neighborhood, but her discontent grew and grew, until it became apparent to the man that she did not love him, but desired a divorce. He went home one day, and finding her at home, he asked her if she did not desire to be free from him, and she said that she did; that she loved another man, and wanted to marry him. The husband told her that he would give her cause for divorce, and he struck her several light blows, and told her that she could consider this sufficient cause for a divorce suit; to secure a lawyer, and that he would not fight the suit. This she did, and in a short time married the man whom she thought she loved better than she did the man who really loved her. But she did not live long, being stricken suddenly with a deadly disease. We are told that the first husband wept many more tears over her dead body than did the second one, for whom she wrecked her life. This was a case of imagination purely, growing out of a life not fully occupied, a purposeless existence. She could have been happy with the first husband, if she had tried to control her mind, for much of this divorce business in high society among those who are rich enough to be idle, grows out of the fact that the husband is busy trying to earn money to gratify the woman's desires, and she is unoccupied, having plenty of time to listen to the tempter's sweet words and read romantic books, getting a wrong viewpoint.

We could never understand why people wanted to quarrel about anything, for life is so short that there should be no time and no energy wasted in quarrels. There are no two people just exactly alike, in physical form, in mental thought or in spiritual construction. Opinions and shades of opinions are as numerous as the people who come and go with the centuries. And it is right that it should be so, because nature is so varied that there were never two leaves just alike nor two blades of grass that did not have some distinguished difference. Nature likes change, and abhors changeless monotony. There is no need to quarrel with people because they do not see with your eyes, or hear with your ears. Each person has a different identity, and a different ideal. Let each live his own life in his own way, as best suits his happiness, so long as it does not interfere with the rights of another. All over this world people are fretting, worrying and fussing, when they should be working, laughing and helping one another. We get angry and we waste our energy over trifles. Let's quit it. If the other fellow wants to do so, let him alone. Let us seek laughter, fellowship and song.

Many a woman lets bitterness grow in her heart because her husband has not achieved that prominence in the financial world that she expected or that she desired. This bitterness rankles and grows until it not only destroys her happiness, but it also destroys the happiness of the rest of the family, and the man who has done the very best that he could becomes hopeless, because he lacks the sympathy and the helping spirit that ought to go out to him from his wife. If your husband makes a failure, do not upbraid him for his lack of business sense, and humiliate him with what his neighbors have done, but cheer him with all the love and all the tenderness that you have at your command, for her will need it all; his sorrow over his failure is keener than your own, and your fretfulness will only prevent him from trying to get another foothold.

We may make a failure without a mistake, for there are envious, jealous avaricious people waiting on every corner to prevent honest effort from succeeding, and many fall by the wayside who have made no mistake, but who set their standards high, and worked with a purpose to be honorable and honest, no matter what the cost might be.

Governor Dix, who is in Europe on an automobile tour, thinks that Taft will be nominated, and that this is a Democratic mascot year. Let's hope that the governor is right, but it begins to look like the president may not be able to beat the strenuous ex-president.

THE TITANIC REPORT.

The report of the sensational investigating committee upon the Titanic disaster is a severe but well-deserved condemnation of the incompetency and lack of discipline prevailing upon the doomed ship and the culpability of the White Star line in failing to provide the sea monster with proper equipment to insure the safety of passengers and crew. The action of the company in misrepresenting or withholding the true facts for hours after it was known that the ship had gone down is also rebuked. The British board of trade comes in for a share of criticism and the statement is made that to its "laxity of regulation and hasty inspection, the world is largely indebted for the awful fatality."

Captain Rostron of the Carpathia, his officers and crew are highly commended for "heroically saving the lives of 704 people," and a resolution of congress authorizes the president to have a gold medal made and presented to Captain Rostron. The report denounces the commanding officer of the Californian and declares the testimony shows beyond question that this vessel was within less than 19 miles of the Titanic when it struck, saw its distress signals, and, with incredible brutality, proceeded on its way without effort to lend assistance. Had the Californian gone to the rescue, the committee believes all of the crew of the Titanic might have been saved. The report declares that Captain Lord of the Californian, must share the responsibility for the loss of over 1,500 lives, and recommends his punishment by the British authorities in accordance with the laws of that country.

The report makes a number of recommendations designed to insure the greater safety of ocean and large lake vessels, including a stricter supervision of wireless telegraphy and the elimination of interference by amateurs. A resolution introduced in congress provides for the creation of a commission to investigate the laws relating to construction, equipment and navigation of vessels and to report to congress through the president, its findings and recommendations by January 1, 1913.

The investigation committee has done its work well, its findings accord with the testimony adduced and its recommendations are entitled to immediate and earnest consideration. From the horrors of this greatest of marine disasters should arise some compensation in increased safety of ocean travel in the future.

There are so many people who are living with a false standard of what constitutes happiness. These people have been educated in the wrong environment. They believe that what makes a man is the fact that he knows how to dress in the latest mode, is a member of a few fashionable clubs, is wise to all the ins and outs of the 400, and lives altogether by his brains, spurning to use his muscle. They look down upon the man who was reared in the country where he became imbued with the great lessons of nature, and learned that there is such a thing as real friendship, and that this friendship is worth all the rest that he may have. Nature has given him a great big body, a strong mind, and a large brain. He believes in God and the final triumph of right over wrong, and he has a purpose in life, and that purpose is to carve for himself a name high up on the ladder of fame and to be of use to mankind. The city bred man is cold, he is insincere and he is selfish, compared with his country cousin. When one measures all the great men of any nation he will find that a majority were country reared, far from the maddening crowd, close to nature's heart, out in the country where they drank in the fragrance of the budding blossoms, listened to the sweet music of the mating birds, heard the songs of the leaves kissed by the wanton wind, listened to the babbling brooks, and watched the splendor of the silver moon sailing majestically through space upon many a cloudless night, and felt the nearness of God in tree and shrub and bending grain.

Isn't it pathetic where a mother leaves a little child just for a moment, and returns to find that it has fallen into a vessel of boiling water, and is so badly scalded that it dies? Life is full of tragedies, but there is no one that is greater than this one. One pities the frantic, heart-broken mother, who is frenzied with grief, blaming herself for the death of her little darling. No one can by any human reasoning reconcile such a condition as this, but has to take it on faith, and believe that it is for the best, in some unknown way that we poor weak mortals can not understand.

The negro uprising in Cuba is not yet of sufficient importance, nor so great a menace to the integrity of the Cuban government, as to warrant American intervention. But the suspicion will not dispell itself that the administration will not turn its back upon any plausible excuse to land American troops in both Cuba and Mexico.

In spite of the fact that the widow of the late "Sockless Jerry" Simpson claims to have received spirit messages from her defunct husband assuring the nomination of Clark at Baltimore. Champ keeps right on hustling for delegat-

She held him in her loving arms for the first time. She had not been strong enough to sit up until that day, and the little blue-veined babe was placed on her breast, and she pressed him close to her beating heart. He was such a little thing, she shut her eyes, and as she crooned a lullaby she wondered whether he would grow up into a great big man, and his name be honored by those who lived and wrought with him. His little form was perfect, and his soft, pink face was fair to look upon. Love and hope were mingled when he was born, and the tenderness of two united hearts were in his gleaming eyes. The crimson of the mother's heart blood was in his rosebud lips, and her tears and her kisses were blended in the glow that shone upon his head. How precious is the dimpled flesh of the first-born babe, the cooing laughter of the little thing, the softness of its cheeks and hair, the smile that's sweeter than an angel's song. What dreams sweep over the mother's heart as she holds the infant to her breast, what hopes has she for his success and happiness? Hold him fast, dear heart, today, for the morrow is sure to come, and no one knows just what it will bring. And even if the morrow is kind, and many morrows are full of happiness, the time will come, too soon, when the child will become a man, and he will go out into the world to fight its battles, and his children will gather about him, and his wife will hold an infant in her arms, just as his mother held him in the long ago.

Little children are the most marvelous things in all this world. The growth and the development of their little minds are a source of unending pleasure and wonderment. To begin with, birth is a miracle that no human being can comprehend. And then the unfolding of the mind that controls that newborn life thrills one with peculiar sensations, because it is so far above the control of human agency or any other human power. Will we ever learn to appreciate the miraculous power that wills into life a human being, and by the exercise of its thought and its care, keeps the little one safe and sound, ever growing in size and in strength, until it becomes a grown human being, capable of caring for itself, and ready and prepared to battle with the vicissitudes of life?

We fail to do many things that we know that we ought to do, because we are human, and humanity is prone to err. The time will never come in this world when we will do just what we ought to do, and therefore we should be filled with charity for all mankind.
